The Timber...

The best quality timber is used and every effort is made to ensure it originates from environmentally managed woodlands where sustainability is a prime concern. Certified timber comes from companies who have a proven track record in understanding environmental responsibilities. The work of the internationally recognised third party certification programmes for forestry (FSC, PEFC, SFI, CSA and so on) is wholly endorsed.

The hard wood timbers which we use to make our furniture is Sapele (used for painted furniture), Oak and Iroko, all very durable and chosen for their qualities and characteristics. Oak and Iroko left untreated will weather down to a soft silver colour and unpainted timber has a clear preservative applied to act as an anti fungicidal treatment.
